Challan will not end pollution - first government and senior officers of government departments need to be reformed - Sanjay Kumar Bathla

Author: Sanjay Kumar Bathla

Editorial Clarification: This article is presented as author's opinion / view. The questions raised on administrative system in it are based on author's allegations / experience, they should not be considered as proven facts against any particular individual. Where judiciary, constitution and law are mentioned, it is based on verified legal framework.Main Facts - At a GlanceQuestion: After more than 15 years of strictness on Delhi's public and vehicles, has Delhi's air quality become correct?Author's answer: No, every winter air quality again reaches severe categoryIn November 2026: During hearing in Supreme Court, in CAQM report vehicle pollution was told as biggest contributor in Delhi-NCR, about 23% in winter and about 19% in summerContribution of stubble: Told about 14% on 5th November in hearingAQI: During hearing Delhi's AQI was told around 391-400Author's demand: Action should be not on public, first on government and senior officers of government departments, ban on encroachment, illegal parking, illegal occupation, dust-soil1. Who will give account of 15 years of strictness?What has Delhi's public not endured?Vehicles closedChallans cutChecking increased in name of PUC, permit, fitnessOdd-even, GRAP, ban on construction, ban on schoolsStill every year same picture - smog, cough, burning in eyes, crowd in hospitals.Author's question is direct - If public itself was guilty, then after 15 years of strictness Delhi's air should have become clean. It did not, so means guilty is somewhere else.Pollution will not end with just challan. Air does not become clean by collecting crores of rupees in name of challan and fault, system has to be cleaned.2. What does Constitution say? - Clean air is fundamental rightThis is not a favour, it is right of Constitution.Article 21 - Right to Life: Supreme Court has repeatedly said that life in Article 21 does not mean only breathing, it means living with dignity. It includes right to pollution-free air and water.Subhash Kumar vs State of Bihar (1991): Court said - Right to life includes enjoyment of pollution-free air and water.M.C. Mehta vs Union of India (1986 onwards): Longest hearing on Delhi pollution, in this pollution-free environment was considered part of Article 21, principles like Polluter Pays and Precautionary Principle came into Indian law.Article 48A - Duty of State: State shall endeavour to protect and improve environment, protect forests and wildlife.Article 51A(g) - Fundamental duty of citizen: It is duty of every citizen to protect natural environment, have compassion for forests, lakes, rivers and wildlife.Article 14 - Right to Equality: Law will apply equally to all. One rule for poor, another rule for influential - this is against spirit of Article 14. This is constitutional root of author's encroachment question.Article 32 and 226: Citizen can go to Supreme Court and High Court on violation of fundamental right.Meaning is clear - Giving clean air is constitutional responsibility of government, not a favour on public.3. What do laws say? - There is no lack of law, lack of implementation1. Air (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Act, 1981: Law to prevent air pollution, to give power to pollution control boards.2. Environment (Protection) Act, 1986: Made after Bhopal gas tragedy, gives extensive power to Centre to make environmental standards, give guidelines.3. Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 (Amended 2019): Arrangement of pollution standards of vehicles, PUC, fitness, challan, permit. Action on vehicles happens under this.4. CAQM Act, 2021 - Commission for Air Quality Management: Special commission for air quality in Delhi-NCR, power to implement GRAP, give directions.5. GRAP - Graded Response Action Plan: Phased action according to AQI - vehicle stop, construction stop, work from home in offices etc. In November 2026 GRAP Stage-III was also implemented, in which ban on BS-III petrol and BS-IV diesel four-wheelers.Author's argument: Law, commission, GRAP, judiciary - all are there. Still air did not improve, so deficiency is not in law, but in implementing system.4. Supreme Court and Amicus Curiae - Is truth coming out?In November 2026, Suo Motu hearing happened in Supreme Court on Delhi-NCR pollution.Facts that came in hearing:Amicus Curiae senior advocate Aparajita Singh said - Breathing air in Delhi was told like smoking about 30 cigarettes daily, contribution of stubble was about 14% on 5th NovemberIn CAQM report vehicle pollution was told as biggest contributorCourt said - Temporary bans, vehicle closure, construction closure like measures are old, tried and failed measuresCourt told Delhi, Haryana, Uttar Pradesh, Rajasthan, MCD, Delhi Police to give detailed reply and time-bound roadmap on regulation of vehicles, PUC, action on overage vehicles in 2 weeksCourt also said - Stopping vehicles at Delhi border and keeping engine on also increases pollution, there should be no jam at tollAuthor's question: When court itself is saying that Temporary measures have failed, then why same temporary measures are imposed on public every year?Permanent system - road, dust, encroachment, public transport - why action not taken on them?Amicus Curiae is friend of court, not a party. Her work is to give facts to court.Author expects that attention of Amicus Curiae and court should not remain limited to only vehicle and stubble, but should also go to local sources like encroachment on road, dust, construction debris, illegal parking, which spoil daily breath.This demand is with respect to court - Whoever is guilty, action should be on same.5. CNG story - Was truth told?One old question of author is still unanswered.Verified history:On 28 July 1998, by order of Supreme Court process of converting commercial vehicles to CNG started in DelhiTill December 2002 city buses of Delhi changed from diesel to CNGAt that time it was said - CNG is clean fuel, Delhi's air will improveAuthor's question:If CNG was pollution-free, then how Delhi is polluted today due to polluting vehicles?If CNG was not pollution-free, then why action was not taken on those who brought it to Delhi by lying?Editorial Balance: CNG reduced smoke and particulate pollution compared to diesel, this came in study. But CNG alone could not make Delhi pollution-free, because number of vehicles, dust, construction, industry, stubble - all kept increasing.Therefore more important question than dividing CNG into lie or truth is this - System does not change by changing one fuel. Number of buses, public transport, road dust - Permanent work did not happen on these.6. Who is real guilty? - Detailed analysis on author's listAccording to author what is seen on Delhi's roads, it is not done by public, it happens due to negligence of system:1. Encroachment on roads: Shop on footpath, goods on road, occupation on crossings - Due to this jam happens, vehicles move with stops, fuel burns, pollution increases.2. Illegal parking: Where there is no parking, vehicles stand there, road shrinks, jam increases.3. Illegal occupation, illegal rehdi-patri, kiosks, carts: Author alleges that behind these there is system of extortion and protection, which should be investigated. It is easy to remove poor rehdi owner, but whose responsibility is to give him place and make system, this question also.4. Unauthorized vehicles: How vehicles without permit, without PUC, without fitness run on road? It is subject of investigation why ban is not imposed on them.5. Dust-soil, pile of garbage: Construction debris, broken roads, open garbage, roads with flying dust - This is not less dangerous than vehicle pollution. In GRAP construction is stopped, but why permanent arrangement for removing dust does not happen?Author's conclusion: With all these remaining, how much ever correct order is passed, pollution-free Delhi cannot happen.Editorial note: For confirmation of these allegations, documents, map, permission, investigation report will have to be seen in each case. But question is valid - Why removal of encroachment only on poor, why not same on all?7. Why no action on those who find more revenue from public?This is sharpest question of author.For making Delhi jam-free, accident-free, pollution-free, action is needed more on those who find way to increase revenue from public, than on public.Means:Completing target of challan is not successCleaning road is successStopping vehicle is not successIncreasing public transport is successRemoving poor is not successGiving alternative to poor is successPolluter Pays does not mean that only public should pay. Polluter Pays means that polluter, whether it is person, institution, contractor or department, he will be responsible.8. 7 Demands in public interest - Editorial ProposalFirst department, then public: For encroachment, illegal parking, dust, garbage - Accountability of responsible departments should be fixed, officer-wise report should be made public.Equal law: Same rule, same action on rehdi of poor and encroachment of big building.Dust-free road: Time-bound responsibility of cleaning, washing, pothole filling of every road, report with photo.Public transport should increase: Number of buses should increase, feeder service should be strong, so that people can leave private vehicles.Account of challan should be public: How much challan collected, how much pollution reduced - Both accounts should be given to public.GRAP should be permanent, not temporary: There should be plan for air quality improvement not only in winter, but whole year.Full picture should reach court: Not only vehicle-stubble, but full report of road, dust, encroachment, construction debris should also be placed before Amicus Curiae.9. Editorial ConclusionDelhi's air is not only problem of weather, it is test of system.For 15 years strictness happened on public, but strictness did not happen on system. Therefore air did not improve.Clean air is fundamental right of Article 21. It will not be got by challan, but by accountability.Humble expectation of author from Hon'ble Supreme Court and Amicus Curiae - Pay attention to truth, whoever is guilty whether public or system, action should be on same, but poor public should not be considered guilty every time.For pollution-free Delhi, first government and government departments will have to be reformed - This is prima facie necessary.- Sanjay Kumar Bathla, Chief Editor

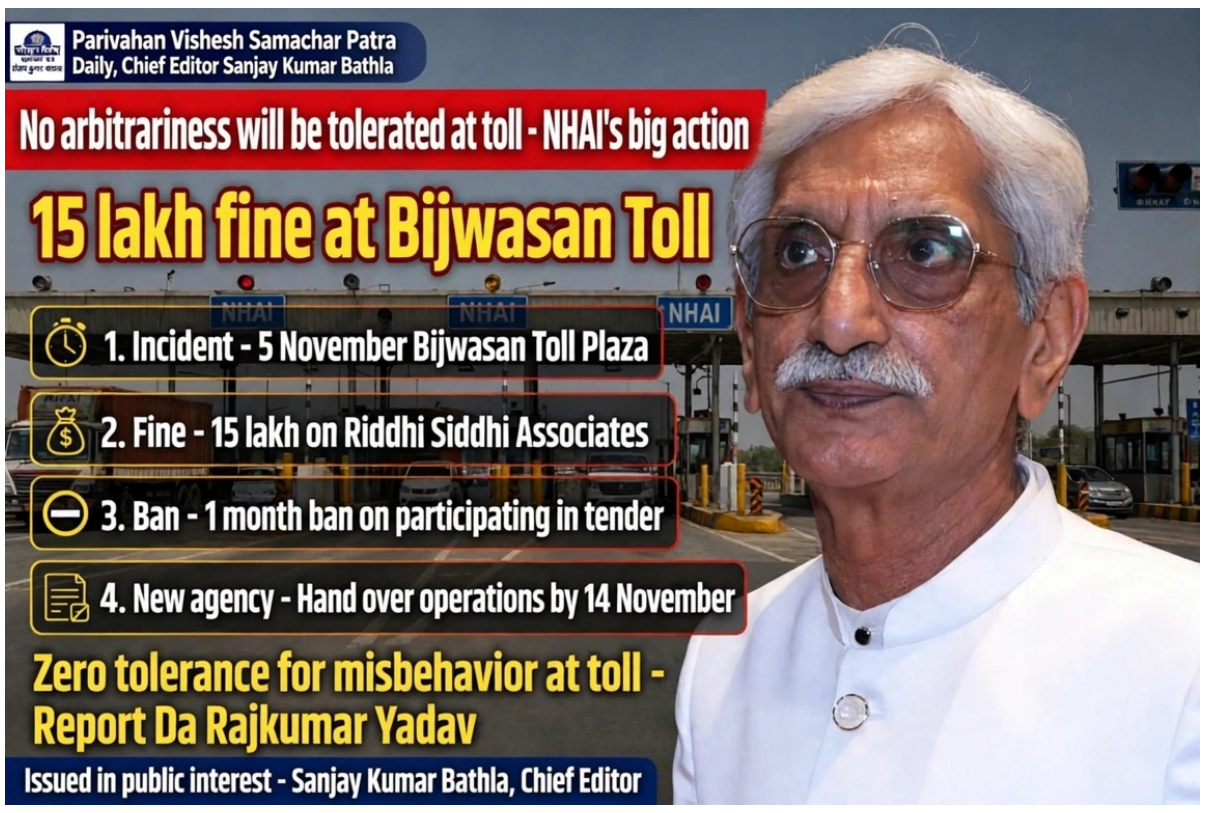

Open manhole in Nangloi, outer Delhi swallowed 4-year-old innocent - Who will answer?

Parivahan Vishesh News

Child fell while playing in Das Garden ColonyJoint rescue continues by NDRF, Fire, Police, DDMA and BSFHow long will negligence of Delhi Government, MCD keep taking lives of children?- Author: Sanjay Kumar Bathla- Editorial Department, Parivahan Vishesh Samachar Patra Daily, Nangloi, Outer Delhi.Main Facts - At a GlancePlace of Incident: Das Garden Colony, Nangloi / Nangli Vihar area, Outer DelhiVictim: 4-year-old child, fell into open manhole while playing - according to reportsAgencies engaged in rescue: NDRF, Delhi Fire Service, Delhi Police, Delhi Disaster Management Authority (DDMA), BSF - Joint operationAuthor's question: How long will mistakes of Delhi government and Delhi Municipal Corporation keep putting lives of children in danger?Second question: Is there any answer or accountability?Third question: Why does judicial system also remain silent in punishing such officers?Editorial Clarification: This report is based on news reports and facts as told by officers on spot. Official confirmation of child's condition and final result of rescue will be from concerned agencies only. Allegations levelled on officers are questions of author, not verdict of court.1. What happened - Details of incidentThere was panic in Das Garden Colony in Nangloi area of outer Delhi when a four-year-old child fell into an open manhole there.It is being told that child became victim of this accident suddenly while playing.Officers who reached spot told that after a four-year-old child fell into an open manhole near Das Garden Colony in Nangli Vihar area of outer Delhi, a wide multi-agency search and rescue operation has been started.Teams are deployed at spot and intensive search operation is going on to find and pull out child. According to fire officers, this incident happened when child was playing and slipped into an open manhole by mistake.At present joint rescue operation of NDRF, Delhi Fire Service, Delhi Police, Delhi Disaster Management Authority and BSF is continuing at spot.This is not just an accident, it is open failure of system.Why was manhole open?Where was lid?Was it stolen, broken or not installed at all?Who will answer this?2. This is not only Nangloi incident - Old wound of DelhiThis is not first incident in Delhi.Every rainy season, every year - open manhole, open drain, broken grill, sewer without lid - takes life of some innocent. Sometimes Mayur Vihar, sometimes Dwarka, sometimes Rohini, sometimes Nangloi.Pattern is same:Manhole remains openNobody listens to complaintChild fallsRescue happens, cameras comeOrders of inquiry happenThen everyone forgets, till next incidentQuestion is same - How long will mistakes of Delhi government, Delhi Municipal Corporation keep putting lives of children in danger?3. What does Constitution say - Child's fundamental rightsThis incident is connected with biggest right of Constitution - Right to Life.1. Article 21 - Right to life and personal libertyNo person shall be deprived of life except by procedure established by law.Supreme Court has said - Article 21 also includes safe life, dignified life, clean environment, health.Leaving open manhole, putting child's life in danger, is direct violation of Article 21.2. Article 21A - Right to EducationRight to free education to children of 6-14 years, but child will study only when he remains alive.3. Article 39(e) and (f) - Directive Principles of State PolicyState will ensure that tender age of children is not abused, children get opportunities for healthy development, they are not exploited.Open manhole is against healthy development of children.4. Article 47 - Nutrition, standard of living and public healthDuty of state is to improve public health, raise standard of living of people.5. Article 48A - Environment protectionState will protect environment, forests and wildlife. Clean, safe road and drain also comes in this.6. Article 51A(g) - Fundamental duty of citizensDuty of every citizen is to protect natural environment. But if citizen complains then who will listen?7. Article 32 and 226 - Constitutional remediesVictim family can file writ in Supreme Court (Article 32) and High Court (Article 226) demanding compensation, inquiry and action.Constitution clearly says - Child's life is responsibility of state, not favour.4. Law, Act, Rules - Who has what responsibility?A. Delhi Municipal Corporation Act, 1957 (DMC Act) - AmendedSection 42, 43 - Duty of Corporation is construction and maintenance of roads, drains, sewer, manhole.Section 317-322 - Action on dangerous, unsafe construction, open drain.Section 400-402 - Punishment on negligence of Corporation officer, liability of compensation on Corporation.In Delhi MCD itself is main maintainer of sewer, drain, manhole lid.B. Delhi Jal Board Act, 1998Delhi Jal Board has to maintain sewer line, manhole, water supply.If manhole is of DJB then responsibility of DJB, if of MCD then of MCD - But public does not know this, it wants safe road.C. Disaster Management Act, 2005Section 6, 18, 22 - Duty of NDMA, SDMA, DDMA is preparation before disaster, prevention and after that rescue.DDMA, Delhi's duty is to identify such dangerous places beforehand and get them closed.In this incident DDMA is in rescue, but why was it not in prevention?D. Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita, 2023 (BNS) - Earlier IPCSection 106 - Death due to negligence - Up to 5 years imprisonment, fineSection 125 - Act endangering life of others - Intentional negligenceSection 125(a), 125(b) - Causing injury by negligenceSection 198, 197 - Negligence in duty by public servant, act against rulesIf investigation finds that officer knew manhole was open and did not take action, then it is criminal negligence.E. Civil liability - Tort lawOn death/injury due to negligence of government department, family gets compensation. Supreme Court has in many cases ordered Corporation to give compensation.F. Protection of Child Rights Act, 2005National Commission for Protection of Child Rights (NCPCR) and Delhi Child Rights Commission (DCPCR) can investigate for protection of child's rights, can ask report from government.G. Environment Protection Act, 1986 and NGT Act, 2010Unsafe sewer, open manhole is danger to environment and public health - NGT can also take cognizance.5. Judicial orders - Supreme Court and High Court have already said1. M. C. Mehta vs Union of India - Supreme CourtMany orders on pollution in Delhi, sewer, cleanliness, safe road. Court said - It is responsibility of Municipal Corporation and government to give safe environment to public.2. Delhi High Court - Orders on open manholeDelhi High Court has many times ordered MCD and DJB - Install lids on all manholes, do GPS mapping, make helpline, inspect every 15 days.Court has said - Leaving open manhole is criminal negligence.3. Supreme Court - Orders on Manual Scavenging / Sewer deathOn death in sewer, order of minimum compensation of 10 lakh rupees and action on officer.In 2023 Supreme Court said - Stopping sewer death is constitutional duty of state, only giving compensation is not enough.4. Delhi High Court - In Nangloi, Dwarka, Rohini casesOn child's death in open drain, Court had ordered MCD to give compensation and departmental inquiry against officers.Court said - "Death of even one child is defeat of system."5. Gazetted notifications / Government ordersSwachh Bharat Mission (Urban) 2.0 - Gazette Notification, 2021 - Safe maintenance of manhole, sewer in all cities, lid mandatory.Delhi Government - Disaster Management Notification - DDMA has to make list of all dangerous manholes, drains before monsoon.CPWD Manual and IS 1726:1991 - Indian standard of manhole lid - Strength of lid, load capacity, locking mandatory.Delhi Municipal Corporation - Sewer Maintenance SOP - Lid, warning board, reflector at night mandatory on every manhole.Still why open manhole? Orders are there, why not compliance?6. Why does judicial system remain silent? - Author's big question - Ultimately why does judicial system also remain silent in punishing such officers?Editorial Analysis - 4 Reasons:Responsibility not fixed: MCD says it is of DJB, DJB says it is of PWD, PWD says it is of contractor. File keeps rotating, child goes away.Delay in departmental inquiry: FIR happens, but departmental inquiry goes on for 2-3 years, officer retires, no punishment happens.Compensation becomes punishment: Government closes case by giving compensation, criminal action does not happen on officer. Compensation is not justice, justice is punishment and reform.Less Suo Motu: High Court many times takes Suo Motu, but Suo Motu cannot happen on every incident. Victim family is poor, cannot afford lawyer.But judicial system is not completely silent. Delhi High Court and Supreme Court have many times reprimanded officers. Shortage is in compliance, not in order.7. Whose responsibility - Clear answerPrimary responsibility:Delhi Municipal Corporation (MCD) - Maintenance of road, drain, manhole lidDelhi Jal Board (DJB) - Sewer line, sewer manholePWD, Delhi - Manhole on big roadsContractor - Who did work, installed lid or notDelhi Government - Monitoring, budget, accountabilityDDMA - Prevention before disaster, identification of dangerous placesIf manhole was open, then responsibility is collective, but punishment to none - This is biggest failure.8. 10 Demands in public interest - From Parivahan VisheshImmediate FIR and investigation: FIR under BNS Section 106, 125, chargesheet in 30 days, action on both officer and contractor.Manhole Audit: GPS mapping of all manholes of Delhi in 15 days, list public with photo, like vehicle portal make manhole portal.Stop theft of lid: QR code, RFID, locking system on lid - Immediate alert on theft.Helpline and App: If open manhole seen then send photo on 155303, MCD App, closing within 24 hours mandatory, otherwise fine on officer.Not compensation, justice: Immediate 25 lakh rupees help to victim family, education of child, safety of family - But along with criminal action on officer also.Time limit in departmental action: Inquiry should be completed in 90 days, officer should be suspended, punishment should not escape due to retirement.Prevention by DDMA: Every year before monsoon safety audit of manholes, drains, report should be submitted in High Court.Investigation by Child Rights Commission: DCPCR and NCPCR should do independent investigation of this incident.Public participation: In every colony RWA should have right to monitor manhole, if action not taken on complaint then RWA should be able to go directly to High Court.Compliance of Supreme Court order: Contempt action on non-compliance of Supreme Court orders on manual scavenging, sewer safety, manhole lid.9. Editorial ConclusionA 4-year-old child was playing. He did not know that beneath playground there is open well of death.He did not know that there is Article 21 in Constitution, that High Court has given orders, that it is duty of MCD. He just had to play and system did not even give him safe land to play.Delhi Government, MCD, DJB - All have to remember - No budget, no tender, no election is bigger than child's life.Judicial system also should not remain silent. If officer will not be punished, then next manhole will also remain open, next child will also fall.Child of Nangloi is not only of one family, he is child of whole Delhi. His scream is asking question from system of Delhi - Who will answer?- Sanjay Kumar Bathla, Chief Editor

Arbitrariness and misbehavior at Toll Plaza will no longer be tolerated! NHAI's big action, ₹15 lakh fine on agency

Parivahan Vishesh News

After Bijwasan Toll Plaza incident, axe falls on Riddhi Siddhi Associates; Ban on participating in NHAI tenders for one month, show-cause notice to operators for one-year ban

Report: Dr. Rajkumar Yadav, Parivahan Vishesh Samachar Patra

An important and relieving news has come from the Central Government for vehicle drivers, truck owners and transport businessmen traveling on National Highways. The National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) has now adopted a strict stand against agencies that misbehave, threaten and assault travelers in the name of toll collection. The Authority has given a clear indication that the right to collect toll does not give any agency a license to play with the dignity and safety of road users.According to the official information issued by the Ministry of Road Transport and Highways on 11 November 2026, an incident of misbehavior and assault with road users took place on 5 November at the Bijwasan Toll Plaza of NH-248BB located on Dwarka Expressway in Delhi. Taking this matter seriously, NHAI has imposed a fine of Rs. 15 lakh on the toll fee collection agency M/s Riddhi Siddhi Associates.Not only this, the agency has been banned from participating in NHAI's present and future tenders for one month. The Authority has also issued a show-cause notice to the agency and its owners and directors on the proposal to ban them from future tenders for one year.New agency to be handed over toll operation by 14 NovemberNHAI has directed the existing agency to hand over the operation of Bijwasan Toll Plaza to a new agency by 14 November 2026. This action is not limited to only financial penalty, but is also an important step towards ensuring accountability in toll management.Important message for transport sectorThe message of this action is important for truck owners, transporters, bus operators and private vehicle drivers across the country. It is their right to get respectful behavior and seamless facility at the toll plaza for vehicle drivers who travel thousands of kilometers daily on National Highways.Toll employees cannot take law into their own hands in case of dispute regarding fee payment. It is the responsibility of the toll agency that its employees behave in accordance with discipline, decency and prescribed rules.NHAI has reiterated that its policy is zero tolerance towards any kind of misbehavior, threat, harassment or physical violence at the toll plaza.Now the question is whether such accountability will be effectively implemented at other toll plazas of the country as well? If this action is implemented equally across the country, then certainly road users and the transport industry can get great relief.

Beauty in the time of pollution

Parivahan Vishesh News

Shahnaz Hussain

Beauty in the time of pollution----Shahnaz Husain Living in metropolitan cities has its perks—vibrant culture, active lifestyle, luxurious life, and rapid urban development. The only flip side of its growth is the increase in pollution, which most people do not realise until it stares back at them in the mirror.

Healthy skin is not just about what you put on it, but also about how you protect it from the world around you.

Pollution isn't just a problem for the planet – it can harm your health, skin and hair as well.

Our bustling cities, while vibrant and full of opportunity, expose us to a complex mix of pollutants that can wreak havoc on our complexions. Tens of millions of people living in India's metro cities are exposed to toxic air that can weaken the skin and trigger inflammation. Air pollution and skin have a direct correlation, with pollutants contributing to many skin problems. This pollution can wreak havoc on your skin, causing irritation, dryness, dark spots and premature ageing. Pollution also accelerates hyper pigmentation and increases the risk of discolouration, dullness, roughness, acne, hives, and eczema. Over time, this pollution weakens the skin's natural defence system, disrupts its moisture barrier, and promotes inflammation.

Pollution is everywhere, so there's no way to completely avoid it. The good news is that you can defend your skin from pollution.

1--Minimise indoor pollution sources-----: Usually, the most effective way to improve indoor air quality is to eliminate individual sources of pollution or to reduce their emissions. Burning of solid fuels like wood, coal, dung, and agricultural waste releases particulate matter (PM2.5), carbon monoxide (CO), and volatile organic compounds (VOCs). Use Heating, Ventilation, and Air Conditioning (HVAC) Systems with HEPA and Carbon Filtration.

Wear N95 or N99 Respirators in high-pollution environments and limit time in poorly ventilated spaces. Limit activities that can add pollutants to your indoor air, such as cooking with high heat, using harsh cleaning agents. Do not smoke, vape, or burn incense or candles indoors, as this releases harmful particles and chemicals. Natural ventilation, like window shading, opening windows and doors, can also improve indoor air quality by reducing pollutants that are indoors. Avoid outdoor exercise: Reduce outdoor physical activity during high pollution periods to prevent breathing in more pollutants. If you must go outside, try to go out during midday when the air quality may be better.

2------- Eat a skin-protective diet----- Antioxidants help reduce pollution-driven oxidative stress. Vitamin C rich foods, jaggery and drink loads of fluids rich in antioxidants. Antioxidants can neutralize the effects of pollutants. Lemon, orange, amla, green vegetables, grapefruit, tomatoes and potatoes are some examples of Vitamin C rich foodsThey support skin, lungs, and overall immunity each day. These nutrients protect cells and improve natural resilience. Products with antioxidants protect against pollution by neutralising damaging free radicals, which are caused by environmental stressors like smog.

Eat plenty of antioxidant-rich foods each day, including fruits, vegetables, nuts, seeds, legumes and whole grains. Studies show that following a plant-based, antioxidant-rich diet lowers oxidative stress in your body. . Vitamins C and E help neutralise free radicals from polluted air. These antioxidants protect skin from oxidative damage caused by PM and ozone. They reduce stress on keratinocytes and slow pollution-driven ageing. Green tea extract and resveratrol support the skin barrier during pollution exposure. Both contain antioxidants that reduce oxidative stress on surface cells. They help neutralise pollutants that settle on the skin.

3---Skin Care Strategies --------To protect your skin during high pollution, cleanse thoroughly twice a day to remove pollutants..Nighttime is your skin's prime time to repair itself, so always cleanse your face before hitting the bed. to remove the day's buildup of makeup, dirt, oil, and pollutants, which prevents clogged pores, breakouts, and premature ageing.

Please be sure to look for a gentle, non-abrasive, alcohol-free cleanser to remove dirt and impurities without stripping essential oils. Look for ingredients like: Glycerin: A humectant that attracts moisture, Ceramides: Help restore the skin barrier. Or Aloe Vera which Soothes and calms the skin. Avoid harsh soaps or cleansers containing sulfates, which can dry out the skin. After cleaning, apply a skincare product that contains one or more antioxidants, such as Green tea extract, Vitamin B-3, Niacinamide, and Coenzyme Q10, to protect the skin from damage, improve tone, and support collagen.

4--Protect your hair ------Every time you step outside —on your way to work, to go for a run, to walk the dog— soot and grime can settle with smoke and other airborne chemicals on your hair and scalp, drying it up, making it brittle, and prone to breakage.. As these pollutants build up, they can cause the scalp to become inflamed and your hair to become dry, dull and brittle

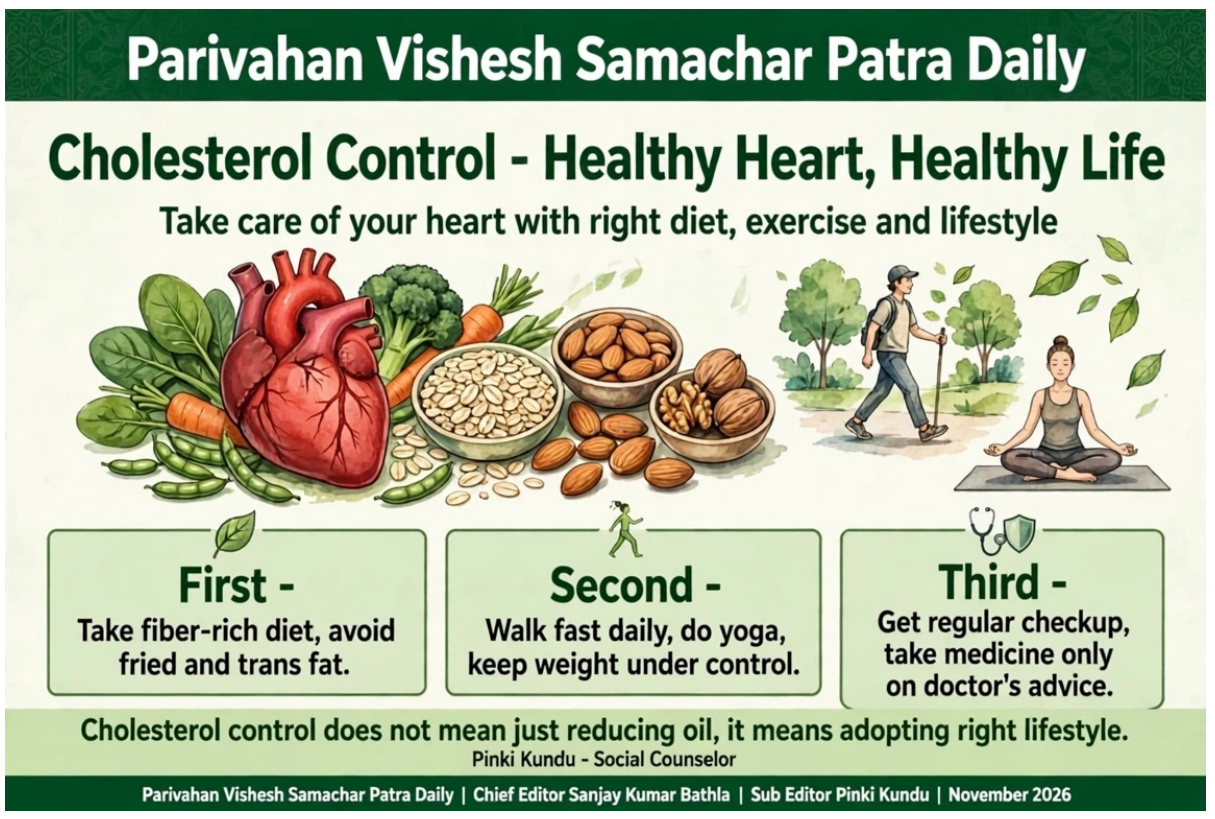

As pollution can compromise your hair quality, you must treat it with extra care. When detangling, use a wide-toothed comb and start at the ends of your hair, working your way up to the roots. Giving your hair a break from heat styling.

Wearing a hat,cap or scarf over your head to shield your hair from dust and smoke when you'll be outside for a long period of time is a fail-safe way to keep your strands shielded from pollution. Avoid exposing hair to direct sunlight and polluted air for long periods. Even pulling your hair back into a knot or bun will provide some protection, as the hair wrapped in the bun is largely unexposed.

Cholesterol Control: Right diet, exercise and lifestyle to keep heart healthy!

Parivahan Vishesh News

Pinki Kundu Social Counselor

Healthy Heart, Healthy Life!
What is cholesterol?
What effects does its increase have on body?
And
What should be done to control it in natural way?
Correct information about all these things is very important.
What is cholesterol?

Cholesterol is fat-like substance essential for body. It helps in building body cells, making some hormones and formation of vitamin D. But when its level in blood becomes unbalanced, risk of heart disease and stroke may increase.LDL – Bad cholesterol: When its level is high, layer of fat may deposit in walls of blood vessels.

HDL – Good cholestero
l: It helps in carrying extra cholesterol back to liver.

Triglycerides: This is another important type of fat found in blood. Increase in its level can also be harmful for health.

Right diet to reduce cholesterol Include fiber-rich food items.

Oats, flaxseed, pulses and sprouted grains.
Green leafy vegetables, fruits and whole grains.
Ragi, jowar and other fiber-rich grains.

Soluble fiber helps in reducing absorption of cholesterol in intestines.

Eat dry fruits in limited quantity. Eating almonds, walnuts and other dry fruits without salt or sugar in proper quantity can benefit health of heart.

Choose good type of fat. Use limited use of peanut, mustard, sunflower or other oils with unsaturated fat. Amount of oil is also important. Excess consumption of any oil is not proper.

Reduce consumption of these food items.
Vegetable ghee and substances with trans fat.
Repeatedly fried food items, salty snacks and fast food.
Dairy products with more cream and butter.
Processed meat and red meat with more fat.
Food items with more sugar, sweet drinks and things made of maida.

Truth of home remedies

Garlic: Garlic can be included in food, but it is not alternative to cholesterol-lowering medicines.

Fenugreek seeds: Can be included in diet in limited quantity. Its effect on cholesterol may be limited. People taking diabetes medicines should take special care.

Flaxseeds: They contain fiber and plant-based omega-3. Its consumption in balanced diet can be useful.

Arjun bark: In Ayurveda its traditional use is done for heart health. However, scientific evidence of its effectiveness in reducing cholesterol is limited. Do not take it as medicine without doctor's advice.

Lukewarm water: Drinking water is essential for body, but there is no solid scientific evidence that lukewarm water directly melts cholesterol or removes blockage of blood vessels.

Make these important changes in lifestyle

Do at least 150 minutes of moderate intensity exercise every week. For example, walk fast for 30 minutes daily five days a week.

If weight is more then reduce weight slowly and in healthy way.

Stay away from smoking and tobacco. Not consuming alcohol is safer option.

Take regular sleep and do yoga, meditation and breathing exercises to reduce stress.Why is cholesterol test necessary? Even when cholesterol increases, many times no symptoms are visible in body. Therefore it is important to get lipid profile blood test done and check level of LDL, HDL and triglycerides.

Right target level of cholesterol depends on each person's age, diabetes, blood pressure, previous heart disease and total risk of heart disease.

Important information regarding medicines If doctor has given statin or other cholesterol-lowering medicines, then do not stop them on your own and nor change their dosage.

Why do we hang lemon-chili outside the house? The secret context from Padma Purana - The story of Goddess Lakshmi's elder sister Alakshmi

Parivahan Vishesh News

Alakshmi appeared from the ocean churning, returns after getting spicy-sour food at the doorEntry is prohibited in the house with cleanliness, love and evening lampOriginal Story: Dr. Chandrashekhar Sharma | Presentation: Sanjay Kumar Bathla

Editorial Disclaimer: This article is presented as a mythological story / religious belief. Please read it not as a factual claim of history, but as a story of folk-faith and Puranic tradition.

Main Facts - At a GlanceQuestion: Why do we hang lemon-chili outside house and shop?Answer - According to Purana: If Alakshmi gets her favourite spicy-sour food at the door itself, she does not enter insideWho is Alakshmi: Elder sister of Maa Lakshmi, also called 'Jyeshtha' or 'Daridrata'Appearance: Just before Maa Lakshmi from Samudra Manthan (Ocean Churning)Marriage: To Maharishi Uddalaka (Duhsaha Muni)Abode: Under Peepal tree, on Saturday Lakshmi-Vishnu also reside thereFood: Spicy and sour / bitter tastePlace of residence: Where there is laziness, gambling, alcohol, quarrel, dirty utensils, abusive words1. Most people know half the storyMost people know only the story of Maa Lakshmi's appearance, but very few know that just before Maa Lakshmi emerged from the ocean churning, her elder sister 'Alakshmi' had appeared.This is the story that unlocks the mystery of lemon-chili.

2. Samudra Manthan - Alakshmi appeared firstWhen Gods and demons churned the ocean of milk to get nectar, after the Halahal poison, a woman with dark complexion, red eyes and dry hair appeared from within the sea. She was Alakshmi.As soon as she appeared, an atmosphere of sadness, foul smell and quarrel spread all around. Neither any God nor demon was ready to accept her.

Immediately after this, from the same ocean, Maa Mahalakshmi with golden radiance, seated on a lotus appeared, who garlanded Lord Vishnu.

From one ocean two sisters emerged - one Goddess of prosperity, other symbol of poverty.

3. Elder sister's question - What will happen to me?When Maa Lakshmi was married to Lord Vishnu, elder sister Alakshmi started crying:O Narayana! My younger sister's marriage is done with you, but what about me? I am elder, how will balance of world remain without my marriage? Who will be my lord?Lord Vishnu explained to a harsh ascetic sage Maharishi Uddalaka (Duhsaha Muni) for welfare of world and got him married to Alakshmi.

4. Alakshmi could not live in the AshramAfter marriage Maharishi Uddalaka took Alakshmi to his holy ashram. But as soon as she stepped at the door of ashram, Alakshmi started screaming:Where Vedic hymns echo, I cannot live there!Where there is smoke of havan and sound of conch, my ears start bursting!Where there is hospitality and cleanliness, I feel suffocated there!Maharishi Uddalaka understood that this woman is completely opposite to dharma and peace. Fed up, Maharishi left Alakshmi under a Peepal tree and himself went into samadhi.

5. Lament under Peepal and Lakshmi's compassionSitting alone under Peepal, Alakshmi started wailing loudly. Hearing her compassionate cry, Maa Lakshmi from Vaikuntha reached there with her lord Shri Hari.Alakshmi said while crying:O sister! Neither do I have any house to live, nor does anyone respect me, nor is there any arrangement for my food. How shall I live in this world?Maa Lakshmi showing compassion towards her elder sister gave her three boons, which are still rules of our daily life even today:

6. Three Boons - Which are still rules of our life even today1. Abode on Peepal: Lord Vishnu said - "O Alakshmi! Every Saturday I and Lakshmi ourselves will reside on this Peepal tree of yours. Therefore one who worships Peepal on Saturday will get wealth and grains, but on other days your influence will remain."This is the reason why worship of Peepal on Saturday is considered of special importance.

2. Alakshmi's food - Spicy and Sour: Maa Lakshmi said - "My favourite food is sweets (kheer, batashe, fruits). Your favourite food will be 'spicy and sour' (bitter taste)."This is why people hang lemon and green chilies at main door of their house and business. Alakshmi comes to door, consumes her favourite spicy-sour food and gets satisfied and returns from there itself, does not enter inside house.

3. Place of residence of Alakshmi: Maa Lakshmi gave clear order -Where there is laziness, gambling, alcohol, quarrel between husband-wife, dirty utensils, and abusive words are spoken, you will reside there with full rights.Where there is cleanliness, love, evening-lamp and remembrance of God, my grace will remain and your entry will be prohibited.

7. Real message of Lemon-Chili - Not just a superstition
This story does not only tell about hanging lemon-chili, it tells rule of life:

Stop at the door itself: Bad habits have to be stopped at outside of house itself, not allowed to come inside.Cleanliness itself is Lakshmi: Dirty utensils, dirty house, dirty language - this itself is invitation to Alakshmi.
Quarrel itself is poverty: Where there is quarrel between husband-wife, wealth does not stay.

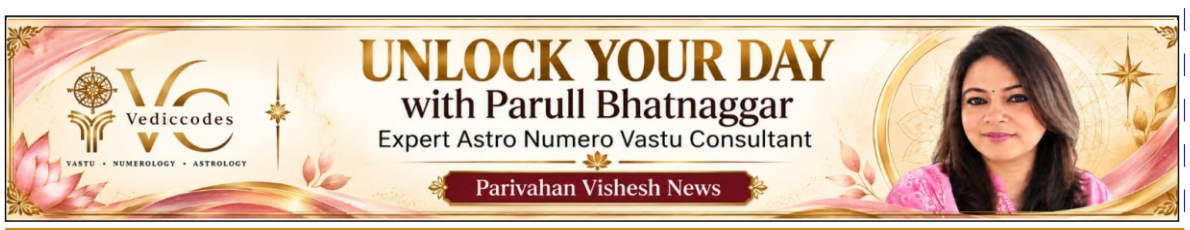

Laziness itself is poverty: Goddess Lakshmi does not stay with lazy person.Evening-lamp itself is protection: Lamp in evening, remembrance of God, love and hospitality - this itself is abode of Lakshmi.

Hanging lemon-chili is a symbol. The real lemon-chili is your cleanliness, your love and your daily routine.
8. Editorial ConclusionLakshmi and Alakshmi are two sisters - in same house, in same mind, both want to live.

Whom you will call, depends on your behavior. If you think that work is done by hanging lemon-chili at door, then it is incomplete.

Along with lemon-chili at door, there should also be cleanliness, love, sweet speech and evening-lamp inside house.Only then Lakshmi will come inside and Alakshmi will return from door itself.

Old System - Under MPD 2021, condition of minimum 100 acres for sector development

FAR - FAR 200 permission for Land Pooling development

Role of DDA - Now DDA itself main anchor - Planning, development of roads, parks, facilities

Benefit to Farmers - Approval for cutting plots along with high-rise building / apartment

Target - To build planned, world-class residential area in outer Delhi, possibility of up to 20 lakh houses

Main Points
1. What is biggest change? Now plan can start even in 50 acres - i.e. 20 hectare. Earlier plan used to get stuck due to condition of 100 acres and arrangement of sector of 250-300 hectare.

2. How will farmers get more benefit? Now not only high-rise building / apartment will be built, but approval for cutting plots has also been given. Due to this farmer / land owner will also get developed plot, which he can keep, sell or develop himself.

3. Why obligation of consortium ended? Earlier 70% land owners had to together make consortium. Plan used to get stuck due to mutual differences. Now land owner can go directly to DDA, making consortium will not be necessary.

4. What will DDA do? DDA will be anchor of plan. Development of road network of at least 30 meter width, park, playground, utility services, social infrastructure and social housing will be through DDA.

5. In which zones will it be applicable? 6 zones marked for Land Pooling - K-1 (West Delhi-2), L (West Delhi-3), N (North-West Delhi-3), P-II (North Delhi), J (South Delhi-2) and P-1 (Parts of Narela).

Detailed Description

Part 1 - What is Land Pooling? In Land Pooling DDA does not acquire land. Land owners pool their land voluntarily. One part of it goes for road, park and public facilities, and remaining developed part is returned to land owner, on which residential and commercial development can happen.

Its aim is to avoid costly acquisition and to build planned houses through private partnership.

Part 2 - Why plan stuck earlier? Making consortium was difficult

There was separate process of changing Land-Use of every parcel

Small land owners were out due to condition of large area

Result - Unauthorized construction spread on more than 3,500 hectare in Land Pooling areas

Part 3 - What has become easy now?

Minimum area reduced from 100 acres to about 50 acres

Consortium not necessary, DDA directly anchor

Land-Use will now be automatically modified according to sector plan

With approval of plot development along with high-rise, dual option to farmer - both flat and plot

Part 4 - What should farmers / land owners keep in mind?

Keep record of your land, khasra-khatauni, ownership documents correct

Make agreement with any developer / agent only after official notification / regulation of DDA comes

How much land will be returned, in what form - flat, plot or both - get it clear in written plan

Take timeline of development, responsibility of road-water-electricity-sewer in writing

Don't give money to anyone without approved plan of DDA

What to do for public?

If you have land in Land Pooling zone then take information only from official website / notice of DDA

Do not fall in trap of brokers / unauthorized colonizers

If going in collective pooling then make written consent letter of all land owners

Understand conditions of getting plot / flat, FAR, development charges in advance

Editorial Note Parivahan Vishesh Samachar Patra Daily believes that this change is in right direction.

From acquisition farmer used to get compensation, but not get partnership in development. In Land Pooling farmer becomes partner.

But condition is one only - Transparency.

Approval of 50 acres, plot along with high-rise, DDA becoming anchor - All these will be meaningful only when plan lands on ground on time, and farmer gets his right in written form, on time.

Today's resolution -No acquisition, development through partnership.

Farmers' right - In writing, on time.- Sanjay Kumar Bathla, Chief Editor, Parivahan Vishesh Samachar Patra Daily

Note: This article is for information in public interest based on published news reports and provisions approved by DDA of MPD 2047. Mention of DDA now operating plan as anchor and ending obligation of consortium is also in reports. Before applying in any particular property / zone, definitely confirm official notification / regulation of DDA.

Big change in DTC: EPF salary limit increased from 15,000 to 25,000 - Contract drivers, conductors and MTS will also get full benefit of PF-pension

Parivahan Vishesh News

New orders of EPFO applicable from 17 September 2026, UAN mandatory till 12 November - If there is lapse then action will be on officer- Author: Sanjay Kumar Bathla- Editorial Department, Parivahan Vishesh Samachar Patra Daily

Main Facts - At a GlanceOrder issuer: Delhi Transport Corporation, Accounts Department, Provident Fund (Headquarters)Office Order Number: DTC/PF/2026/354Date: 06/11/2026Base: EPFO letter No. ACC/DL&UT/J&K and Ladakh/PPS/2026/1452 dated 25.09.2026Big change: Statutory salary limit for EPF, EPS-95 and EDLI increased from 22,412/- per monthContracted MTS 710 x 26 25,000/- per month. This change is applicable from 17.09.2026 .Meaning is clear - Now it is mandatory to give social security coverage to all eligible employees getting salary up to 25,000 rupees. Earlier employees who were outside EPF-EPS due to being above limit of 15,000, now they will also come inside.This order is life-changing for thousands of contract employees of DTC. Till now contract drivers, conductors and MTS many times did not get full benefit of PF-pension. Now they will also get same security which regular employee gets.2. Who-who has to be covered? Instruction to Principal Employer is that:Regular employees + employees employed through contractors - Both should be comprehensively reviewedEPF, EPS-95 and EDLI coverage of all eligible employees coming in revised limit should be ensuredMeaning: Contractor says this is my man, DTC says this is contractor's - This excuse will not work now. As Principal Employer, it is responsibility of DTC that coverage of every eligible employee happens.3. Salary of contract employees - What will be recorded on EPFO portal? Salary for contract employees has been clarified in order:Category - Calculation - Monthly SalaryContracted Drivers and Conductors 862 x 26 15,000/- to 25,000/- per monthApplicable date: From 17.09.2026Last date of UAN: Completion in any case till 12.11.2026Who will get benefit: All eligible employees employed through regular + contractorsSignature: (Sonam), Manager Provident FundEditorial Clarification: This article is based on DTC office order DTC/PF/2026/354 dated 06/11/2026. Final confirmation of salary, date and process to be done from concerned depot / provident fund department.1. What is new order - Why is it so important? Delhi Transport Corporation has issued an important order to all its depots, units and regional managers.EPFO has increased statutory salary limit for mandatory EPF, EPS-95 and EDLI coverage from 15,000/- to 18,460/- per monthDate of Joining: All will be recorded as 17.09.2026Note: Salary of both categories has now come within new limit of 25,000, therefore both will get benefit of EPF, EPS-95.4. What is UAN - And why is it so important? UAN means Universal Account Number - PF account number of employee. Without this PF will not be deposited, pension will not be made.According to order:(a) Identification of eligible employees: Employee-wise review in every depot / unit immediately.(b) Checking of UAN:Whose UAN already exists - After doing their KYC, IN them in DTC on EPFO portalWhose UAN does not exist - Inform them through notice board that they download UMANG APP in Android mobile and by selecting EPFO option, in UAN Allotment and Activation enter Aadhaar Card and mobile number and generate UANWho do not have Android phone - They should generate UAN from someone else's phone and provide to Dealing Assistant of their DepotEditorial Advice: Getting UAN made is not only work of officer, it is own right of employee. If your UAN is not made, then your PF money will not go anywhere. Get it made today itself.5. Correction of wrong EPS membership - Most technical but necessary part Many employees were earlier mistakenly made EPS member, while they should not have been made. Its correction is told in order:Situation 1:UAN made before 31.07.2022Employee is in DTC from before 31.07.2022Pension Status in Payslip is "N"Then what to do: On EPFO Portal enter his Date of Exit 31.07.2022, then again enter Date of Joining 17.09.2026 and IN in DTCSituation 2:UAN made after 31.07.2022Pension Status is "N"Then what to do: Enter Date of Exit same date on which UAN was made, then again enter Date of Joining 17.09.2026 and INMeaning: By correcting old mistake, new, correct coverage will start from 17.09.2026.6. Time-limit - 12 November 2026 - No excuse will workAction of availability / generation of UAN of all eligible employees must be completed in any case by date 12.11.2026After this if any UAN is found pending then along with reasons of delay, details of responsible officer / employee will have to be given in reportIn subject it is written regarding making UAN till date 10.10.2026, but inside order last time-limit is given 12.11.2026Editorial view: This difference in date creates confusion. DTC headquarters should clarify that last date 12.11.2026 itself is valid. But employees should not wait for 12th date, get UAN made today itself.7. EPF / EPS-95 contribution - Money should be deposited on timeAfter UAN generation ensure timely deposit of EPF / EPS-95 contribution of eligible employees to EPFO, so that there is no delay in contribution due to UANEPS-95 contribution of October month to ensure sending to EPFO office, send employee-wise details immediately to Computer Cell, BBM Payroll and Provident Fund Department, DTC headquartersWhat should employee check?Is EPF deduction happening in your Payslip?Is your PF Balance visible on EPFO portal / UMANG APP?If not visible, then immediately tell Dealing Assistant.8. For employees of contractors - Responsibility of contractor All depot / unit in-charges should instruct contractors that they:Identify all eligible employees coming in revised limitUAN of each should be availableVerify EPF / EPS-95 nomination / membershipDeposit contribution on timeGive employee-wise UAN, salary and contribution details to DTCIf contractor does not comply then matter should be brought to notice of higher officer immediately.Editorial view: Contract employee drives DTC bus, serves public in name of DTC. Negligence of contractor in his PF should not be tolerated.9. Compliance report - Who, when, to whom will send?Each Regional Manager / Depot Manager / Unit Officer will send their consolidated employee-wise compliance report mandatorily till 12.11.2026 to Manager, Computer Cell, BBM Payroll and Provident Fund Department, DTC headquartersIn report it will have to be certified that review of all eligible employees coming in revised limit has been done and UAN availability / generation has been ensured10. Personal responsibility of officer - Paper compliance will not workThis action will not remain limited to only paper complianceRegional / Depot / Unit officers will personally monitor and will be responsible for complete compliance in stipulated time-limitOn disobedience of order, unnecessary delay or not giving report on time, action for fixing responsibility can happen as per service / administrative / contractual and other statutory provisionsMeaning is clear - Now excuse will not work, responsibility will be fixed.11. 5 immediate works for employee - In public interestCheck UAN today itself - If not there then make from UMANG APPGet Aadhaar, mobile, bank details corrected - If KYC incomplete then PF will get stuckImmediately after UAN is made give to Dealing Assistant of your DepotCheck Pension Status in Payslip - If "N" then above correction rule will applyCheck PF Balance every month - See EPF Passbook on UMANG APP12. Editorial Conclusion This order of DTC is not just a circular, it is expansion of social security.Increasing limit from 15,000 to 25,000 means - Now more employees will come under ambit of PF, pension and insurance. Pension will be received in old age, PF will be useful in illness, family will get safety cover of EDLI.But order will be meaningful only when UAN of every eligible employee in every depot will be made till 12 November, PF will be deposited.Demand of Parivahan Vishesh Samachar Patra Daily is - DTC headquarters should make daily progress report of every depot public, and immediate action should be taken on contractor or officer who does negligence.PF of employee is his right, not favour.

Administration's bulldozer runs on poor people's houses, why silence on big encroachments?

Resentment in Koida region due to demolition of houses in JSW Chowk; Questions raised on no rehabilitation arrangement for families rendered homeless in cold weather

Report: Dr. Rajkumar Yadav in Koida, Parivahan Vishesh Samachar Patra

Regarding administrative action to remove encroachment, questions have once again started arising on the alleged double standards of law between poor and influential people. In the JSW Chowk area, the administration's arrival with full force to demolish some houses and destroying the houses of poor families without any alternative arrangement has become a cause of resentment at the local level. After this action, an atmosphere of discontent is being seen in the entire Koida region.The biggest question among local people is that if removing encroachment from road and public land is the priority of the administration, then why is this rule not applied equally to everyone? There are allegations that there are also big buildings in the area, whose construction has reached the prescribed limit of the road or which have encroached on the road. Demand for impartial investigation of approved maps, building construction permission and compliance of prescribed standards of many high-rise buildings is also being raised.The irony is that administrative promptness is seen in taking action on small houses of poor families, but similar activism is not seen on alleged encroachments of influential building owners. However, the legal basis behind the administration's action and investigation of the status of the concerned land is also necessary.The most sensitive aspect is that no information has come to light about any alternative arrangement being made for living, food and rehabilitation of the families whose roofs were snatched away in the cold weather. Removing encroachment may be an administrative responsibility, but humanitarian sensitivity and responsibility towards affected families is equally important.It is expected from government and administration that action against encroachment should be impartial, transparent and equal. Before demolishing poor people's houses, rehabilitation and humanitarian security arrangements should be ensured. It is easy to destroy a poor person's house in the name of development and order, but just administration is one that respects humanity along with law.

Odisha's Director General of Police Binayatose Mishra takes stock of security arrangement of Western region, detailed discussion held on crime prevention and functioning of police administration

Report: Dr. Rajkumar Yadav, Parivahan Vishesh Samachar Patra, Rourkela

Regarding crime control in Odisha, law-and-order situation and efficiency of police administration, the State Police Headquarters has intensified its monitoring. In this sequence, Odisha's Director General of Police (DGP) Binayatose Mishra reached Rourkela on Wednesday on a one-day official tour. Here in the high-level review meeting organized at the Western Range Deputy Inspector General (DIG) office, he reviewed the security arrangements of Rourkela, Sundargarh and Keonjhar police districts and various aspects related to policing.In the meeting, Western Range DIG Brijesh Kumar Rai, Rourkela Superintendent of Police Nitesh Wadhwani, Sundargarh Superintendent of Police Amrit Pal Kaur and Keonjhar Superintendent of Police Nitin Kusalkar along with many senior police officers were present.During the review meeting, detailed deliberations were held on the current crime situation in all three police districts, prevention of crimes, control on criminal activities, functioning of police administration and overall law-and-order scenario. The objective of the meeting was to assess existing security challenges along with reviewing efficiency of police system and measures being adopted for crime control.In this high-level meeting, discussion was not limited to only police department, but special importance was also given to administrative coordination. Sundargarh District Collector Dr. Shubhankar Mohapatra and Additional District Magistrate (ADM) Deena Dastagir also participated in the meeting.The joint presence of senior officers of police and administration is being considered important from the viewpoint of coordinated operation of regional security arrangement.Now eyes are on action after review. How much impact strategies made for crime control show on ground and what kind of improvement comes in safety of common citizens and accountability of police, this will remain important in coming days.

500-rupee note ban will not break empire of corruption, Law Ban will break it

Parivahan Vishesh News

Need for simultaneous legal surgical strike on bribery, hawala, black money and electoral money power - More than changing notes, changing system is necessaryAuthor: Advocate Kishan Sanmukdas Bhawnani, Gondia, Maharashtra - Parivahan Vishesh Samachar Patra Daily

Editorial Clarification: This article is presented as policy proposal / opinion of author. The amendments suggested in it are not description of current law, but are proposals for review by Parliament, Law Commission and constitutional experts. In subjects like UAPA, BNS, NSA and death penalty, protection of civil liberty, presumption of innocence and judicial process is mandatory.Main Facts - At a Glance8 November 2016: Old notes of 500 and 1,000 rupees taken out of circulation - DemonetizationNow new debate: Suggestion of Andhra Pradesh Chief Minister Chandrababu Naidu - Close 500 rupee note, digital currency should increaseAuthor's opinion: Root of corruption is not 500 rupee note, entire system is - Bribery, commission in contracts, benami property, fake companies, electoral money power, hawala, money launderingLegal base: Prevention of Corruption Act 1988, Benami Law 1988 / 2016, PMLA 2002, BNS 2023, Representation of the People Act 1951, FCRA 2010, Lokpal Act 2013, Whistle Blowers Protection Act 2014Income Tax Law: Section 269ST - Ban on receiving 2 lakh rupees or more cash in one day, in one transaction, from one person, subject to exceptionsAuthor's demand: India needs comprehensive National Corruption Eradication Policy, appeal for decisive initiative from Prime Minister1. Demonetization vs Law-ban - Where is real solution?Demonetization happened on 8 November 2016. Even after almost 10 years, debate of corruption and black money has not ended.Now suggestion of closing 500 rupee note has come again. Argument is - Ban on large value cash transactions will be curbed, digital currency will increase, corruption and financial fraud will reduce.Author's clear opinion is - This argument is incomplete. Bribery will not automatically end by closing 500 rupee note. Corrupt person can use 100, 200 rupees, foreign currency, gold, land, benami property, digital medium, fake companies or other financial routes.On other hand, burden will fall on common man:Farmer, small shopkeeper, rehdi-patri businessman, labourer, rural - dependent on cashDaily transactions of citizens deprived of digital facility will be under pressureProposal of closing all currencies bigger than 100 rupees and complete ban on cash transaction above 1,000 rupees demands serious review from viewpoint of practicality, inflation and civil libertyTherefore author says - More than changing form of currency, more important is to take strict, transparent and effective legal action on person committing crime, his associates, financial network and system giving protection.2. Law on cash transaction already exists - Need is to implementIn Income Tax Act, 1961 arrangement already exists:Section 269ST: Ban on receiving 2 lakh rupees or more cash from one person in one day, in one transaction or transaction related to one event, subject to prescribed exceptionsSection 269SS and 269T: Regulate cash transactions of loan and depositSection 271D, 271DA, 271E: Provision of penalty on violationAuthor's argument: Need is to make these arrangements effective, to identify real beneficiary and to strengthen investigation of large suspicious transactions, not just to change size of note.3. Prevention of Corruption Act, 1988 - First frontNeed to make this law more effective:Section 7: Taking bribe by government employeeSection 7A: Getting government work done in corrupt manner through influenceSection 8: Giving bribeSection 9: Bribery of commercial organizationsSection 13: Criminal misconduct by public servantSection 17A: Prior approval before investigation of some government decisionsSection 19: Prosecution sanctionAuthor's proposals:Time-bound approval should happen - Sanction should not get stuck in file for yearsIndependent investigation should happenInvestigation of source of government contracts and property should happenOn conviction disproportionate property should be seizedIn serious cases fast hearing should happenCaution: Honest administrative decisions should be saved from being converted into criminal case, otherwise officers will fear to take decisions.4. Benami Property Law - Need to reach real ownerBenami Transactions (Prohibition) Act, 1988, which was strengthened by comprehensive amendment in 2016:Section 3: Ban on benami transactionSection 24: Temporary attachmentSection 27: Confiscation of propertySection 53: Penal action for benami transactionAuthor's proposals:Real owner should be reached for property earned from bribery, illegal contracts, hawala and misuse of postVerification of records of property and beneficial ownership should happen from Aadhaar, PAN, land records and financial informationCaution: Aadhaar should not be considered as automatic ownership proof of property5. PMLA, 2002 - Strike on network of Money LaunderingPrevention of Money Laundering Act, 2002:Section 3: Offence of Money LaunderingSection 4: PunishmentSection 5: Temporary attachment of propertySection 8: ConfiscationSection 12: Obligations of reporting entitiesSection 45: Bail conditionsAuthor's argument: Money earned from corruption is rotated in many companies, properties and foreign accounts and shown as legal. For action on this network, accurate coordination between financial intelligence units, Enforcement Directorate and other investigating agencies is necessary.6. BNS, 2023 - Demand for separate chapter for organized economic crimeNeed to make more clear relation between organized economic crime and national security in Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita, 2023:Section 111: Organized crimeSection 113: Terrorist actSection 147: Waging or attempting to wage war against Government of IndiaSection 152: Acts endangering sovereignty, unity and integrity of IndiaMost important legal caution - Author himself says:Every bribery, hawala or black money does not automatically become terrorism or treason. Applying these sections indiscriminately on general corruption will not be appropriate.Proposal:There should be separate chapter in BNS - Corruption and Organized Economic CrimeIn this there should be clear definition of high-level government corruption, organized loot of public money, collusion in contracts, international network of bribery, illegal electoral financing, systematically weakening government institutionsConsideration should be given to include serious and continuous organized corrupt economic crimes in Section 111Use of Section 113 and 152 should be only when legal elements of terrorist activity or threat to sovereignty and necessary criminal intention are provedThis will make strong safety shield against corruption, but misuse of law will also not happen.7. Hawala, Foreign Funding and Electoral Money PowerFCRA, 2010:Section 3: Persons and entities prohibited from receiving foreign contributionSection 7: Ban on transfer of foreign contributionSection 8: Limit of administrative expenseSection 35: Punishment for violationAuthor's proposals:Real source of foreign funding, ultimate beneficiary, financial audit of educational institutions, NGOs should be made transparentCaution: Foreign contribution received for valid social, religious, educational and humanitarian activities should not be made suspicious by linking with corruptionCoordinated use of arrangements of FEMA, 1999 and COFEPOSA, 1974 should happenIn hawala, financial investigation, banking records, reporting of suspicious transactions and international cooperation should be given priorityElectoral corruption: Sections 77, 78, 123, 125 of Representation of the People Act, 1951 and provisions related to electoral expenditure and bribery should be made more effective. Independent investigation system should be developed for electoral expenses of candidates, real donors and financial transactions of political parties.8. Should there be lifetime election ban and death penalty? - Most sensitive questionRepresentation of the People Act, 1951, Section 8: There is provision of disqualification from contesting election on conviction in some offences. Person convicted under Prevention of Corruption Act also comes in this ambit.Author's proposal - Balanced:Parliament can consider lifetime electoral disqualification on final conviction in serious and intentional corruption, organized loot of public money and high-level financial crimesBut imposing lifetime ban by ignoring only one day's punishment, every type of offence or right to appeal will not be justThis arrangement should pass test of seriousness of offence, judicial process and Article 14 (Equality) and Article 21 (Life and Liberty) of ConstitutionAuthor's clear opinion on death penalty:Making death penalty as general punishment for corruption is not appropriateIn serious corruption, rigorous imprisonment, confiscation of illegal property and economic penalty are more rational measures9. NSA, Lokpal and Ground SystemNational Security Act, 1980:This is law of preventive detention, not law to run trial of general corruption or to give punishmentTherefore declaring corruption automatically as national security crime and applying NSA will not be appropriateUse of concerned criminal laws should be only when there is proven relation between serious organized financial crimes and terrorist financingLokpal and Lokayuktas Act, 2013:Section 14, 20, 23 - Jurisdiction of Lokpal, preliminary inquiry, arrangements related to prosecutionLokpal at Centre, Lokayukta in states should get adequate staff, independent financial resources and power of time-bound investigationThere should be same standard of accountability in all states including Maharashtra, Andhra PradeshGround corruption - Where common man collides daily: Patwari, tehsil office, police station, municipal body, collector office, registration department, government hospital, ministry - To stop bribery here:Public Service Guarantee LawRight to Information Act, 2005E-governance system should be strongDigital monitoring of every government payment, tender, land transfer, permission and contract should happenWhere cash payment is legally permitted, proper receipt and audit should also be mandatory10. Safety of complainant and Fast Track CourtsTo end corruption, strongest protection will have to be given to complainant.Whistle Blowers Protection Act, 2014 should be effectively implemented:Identity of complainant should remain confidentialSafety should be given on threatProtection from harassment in job should happenThere should be difference between malicious false complaint and complaint made in good faithConsideration should be given to transparent economic incentive in proportion to recovered money to those giving information of proven corruptionFast Track arrangement:Special investigation team, independent prosecution officer and special fast track courts should be made for corruption casesInspiration can be taken from arrangement of protection of complainant and special courts like Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes (Prevention of Atrocities) Act, 1989, but different constitutional objectives and nature of crimes of both laws will have to be kept in mindWitness protection, time-bound hearing and effective system of appeal should be ensuredChange in education also: Anti-corruption curriculum, financial literacy, training of digital payment, moral education and information of civil rights should be included. Corruption will not end only by making law strict, till honesty and responsibility towards public property is not developed in next generation.11. Editorial Conclusion - Not on note, but on nerveClosing 500 rupee note is easy, striking on nerve of corruption is difficult.By changing note corrupt will change route, by changing law courage of corrupt will break.India today needs:A comprehensive National Corruption Eradication PolicyBalanced and effective amendment in Prevention of Corruption, Benami, PMLA, BNSTime-bound investigation, fast track courts, property confiscationSafety of complainantTransparency on electoral money powerAnd above all - Protection of Article 14, 21 of ConstitutionCorruption-free India should not be just slogan, it should be resolution of law, morality and accountability.- Sanjay Kumar Bathla, Chief Editor

When Lasers Create Superconductors: The Future of Nanotechnology

Dr Vijay Garg

Retired Principal

Parivahan Vishesh News

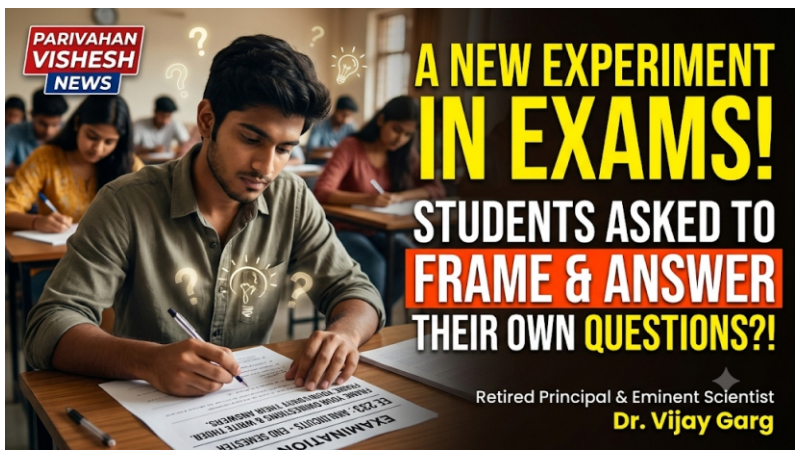

Imagine using a beam of light to create superconductivity in a material with extraordinary precision. What once seemed like science fiction is becoming an exciting possibility in modern physics. Scientists are exploring how laser technology can control the electrical properties of materials at extremely small scales, opening new possibilities for superconductors and nanotechnology.Superconductors are special materials that can conduct electricity without electrical resistance when cooled below a particular critical temperature. Unlike ordinary conductors, they can carry electric current without losing energy as heat. They also exhibit the Meissner effect, in which they expel magnetic fields under suitable conditions. These remarkable properties make superconductors important for advanced medical equipment, powerful magnets, energy systems and future electronic technologies.Traditionally, superconductivity has been achieved by cooling particular materials to very low temperatures or by modifying their chemical composition, pressure or structure. However, scientists are now investigating whether laser light can provide another way to control superconducting behaviour.A laser beam can deliver energy with remarkable precision. When directed at a material, light can influence its electrons, atomic vibrations and internal structure. Under carefully controlled conditions, these changes may produce or enhance superconducting properties in certain materials. Researchers are particularly interested in using ultrafast laser pulses to influence the interactions between electrons and atoms.One promising area of research involves nanoscale engineering. The nanoscale refers to dimensions measured in billionths of a metre. At this level, even small changes in a material's structure can significantly influence its physical properties. By focusing laser energy on extremely small regions, scientists hope to create or control superconducting states in selected areas without changing the entire material.This approach could eventually allow researchers to design electronic devices in which superconductivity exists only where it is needed. Such precision may help develop advanced circuits, nanoscale sensors and highly efficient electronic components.The potential applications are exciting. Superconducting technologies could contribute to more efficient power transmission, faster electronic systems, sensitive magnetic-field detectors and improved quantum computing devices. In medicine, superconducting magnets are already essential for magnetic resonance imaging (MRI) machines. Future advances could make superconducting technologies more compact, efficient and accessible.However, important scientific challenges remain. Laser-induced superconductivity is still an active research area, and demonstrating a temporary superconducting-like state is not the same as creating a practical, stable superconductor. Scientists must establish how long these states last, whether they can operate at higher temperatures and how efficiently they can be controlled. Reproducibility and energy requirements are also important considerations.The combination of laser physics, materials science and nanotechnology represents an exciting direction for future research. It demonstrates how light can become more than a source of illumination; it may also become a powerful tool for designing and controlling the properties of matter.The future of nanotechnology may not depend only on discovering new materials but also on learning how to control existing materials with extraordinary precision. If researchers succeed in reliably creating and manipulating superconductivity with laser light, it could open new pathways in electronics, energy technology and quantum science.The most fascinating possibility is that light may one day help us write the electrical properties of materials, one nanoscale region at a time.

A New Experiment in Examinations: When Students Are Asked to Frame Their Own Questions and Answer Them!

Parivahan Vishesh News

Dr. Vijay Garg

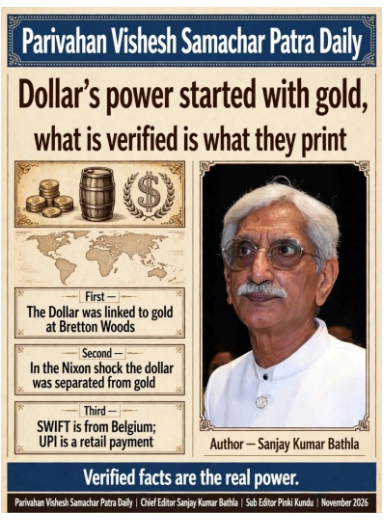

Imagine reaching an examination hall, expecting to receive a conventional question paper, only to find an unusual instruction instead: first prepare your own questions based on everything taught during the semester, and then write their answers as well. It may sound strange at first, but this approach represents a different way of thinking about education and assessment.Recently, an examination paper associated with IIT Goa attracted attention on social media. IITian Aakash Sampurnanand Pandey shared a photograph of the question paper on the social media platform X. According to the claim in his post, students at IIT Goa were asked to frame their own questions and answer them. The shared paper was related to EE 233, a subject titled Analog Circuits.The most interesting feature of this examination approach is that students are not merely expected to answer questions prepared by teachers. Instead, they are also given the responsibility of becoming question setters themselves. This requires a deep understanding of the subject, knowledge of the entire syllabus, analytical ability and creative thinking.In the conventional examination system, students' performance is often measured by how accurately they answer predetermined questions. Sometimes, students obtain good marks but struggle to demonstrate a deeper understanding of concepts or apply their knowledge in practical situations. The tendency to memorise information without understanding it remains one of the major challenges of traditional education.In contrast, the practice of framing questions encourages students to examine every aspect of a subject. When students prepare questions, they must identify the most important concepts, understand the connections between different topics and decide what kind of questions can genuinely test knowledge. This process develops critical thinking, imagination and problem-solving abilities.Such an examination can help develop three important qualities: deeper knowledge, independent thinking and self-assessment. It teaches students not only to remember answers but also to ask meaningful questions. In fact, framing a good question is as important a skill as providing its correct answer.However, certain precautions are necessary before adopting this approach on a wider scale. All students must receive equal opportunities. Clear guidelines should be established regarding the quality of questions, difficulty level, relevance to the syllabus and evaluation criteria. The assessment system must also ensure that students who demonstrate originality and creativity receive appropriate recognition without any possibility of unfair evaluation.India's National Education Policy (NEP) 2020 also emphasises conceptual understanding, creativity, critical thinking and experiential learning rather than rote memorisation. The discussion surrounding this examination approach at IIT Goa provides an opportunity to reflect on these broader educational objectives.In the education system of the future, the role of teachers should not remain limited to providing information. Teachers must inspire curiosity, encourage students to ask questions and help them develop new ideas. After all, great scientists, inventors and researchers are those who have the courage to raise new questions instead of merely memorising existing answers.The real purpose of education is not simply to teach students how to give correct answers but also to develop their ability to ask meaningful questions. A student who learns how to frame good questions opens the doors to an entirely new world of knowledge.

35 Dollars Gold, SWIFT is not America's, UPI and SWIFT are different, Saddam reason not provedAuthor: Sanjay Kumar Bathla

Editorial Clarification: This article is based only on verified facts. Whatever claim is not verified, is not included in it. Assumption is written as assumption and correlation is written as correlation only.Main Facts - At a GlanceJuly 1944, Bretton Woods: 44 countries decided - Dollar linked to gold, other currencies to dollarRate: 1 ounce gold = 35 dollars, Dollar only convertible into goldAmerica's Gold: At peak in 1949 approximately 21,900 tons, about three-fourths of world's official gold15 August 1971: Nixon ended convertibility of dollar into gold - Nixon Shock1974: US-Saudi informal arrangement - Oil in dollar, earnings in US bonds, no formal treaty memo found1961-1968: London Gold Pool, 8 central banks, broke in March 1968, two-tier market formed1973: SWIFT formed in Belgium, cooperative of 239 banks of 15 countries2000-2003: Iraq announced to do oil in Euro, war happened in 2003, later oil again in dollar - Reason not provedUPI vs SWIFT: UPI retail payment, SWIFT messaging system for large transfers between banks - Both different1. 1944 - Why did world choose dollar in Bretton Woods?In July 1944, when Second World War itself was going on, representatives of 44 countries met in Bretton Woods of America.They had to make a new currency system for world after war.Decision happened:Every country's currency will link to dollar, at a fixed rateDollar will link to gold - 1 ounce gold = 35 dollarsForeign central banks could convert their dollars into gold from AmericaMeaning: Dollar became center of world's currencies. Trust on dollar was because America had most gold.In this same conference institutions like IMF and World Bank were also formed.This is verified - There is no dispute in this.2. How much gold America had? - Truth of 20,000 tonsOften it is said - America had 20,000 tons gold at that time.Verified fact is this:America's gold was at peak in 1949 approximately 21,900 tonsThis was about three-fourths of world's official goldIn 1930-40s gold came to America from Europe, in payment of war goods and weaponsTherefore in article we are not writing exactly 20,000 tons in 1944. Correct writing will be - At peak in 1949 approximately 21,900 tons.This same gold was strength of Bretton Woods. But this same gold later also became weakness, because dollars with world kept increasing, gold kept decreasing.3. 15 August 1971 - Nixon Shock, when dollar separated from goldOn 15 August 1971 President Richard Nixon took a big decision.He suspended direct convertibility of dollar into gold. This itself is called Nixon Shock.Why?America had pressure of inflationForeign governments were rapidly converting their dollars into goldPrice of 35 dollars was no longer matching marketNixon had said that this is temporary, but it never returned. Till 1973 big currencies of world came on Floating Rate.Now dollar does not run on gold, it runs on America's economy, trust and strength.4. 1961-1968 - London Gold Pool, when attempt was made to save 35 dollarsThe claim of 1960 is often told with wrong date.Verified fact:On 1 November 1961 London Gold Pool was formed8 Central Banks - Including America, Britain, West Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, Netherlands, SwitzerlandWork was - By selling gold in London market, to stop price at 35 dollars per ounceAmerica gave 50% gold for thisIn 1968 pool broke.In March 1968 heavy pressure came on gold, France separated from poolLondon market had to be closedAfter this two-tier market was formed - 35 dollars in government transaction, different price in marketMeaning: Governments could no longer stop gold price from market. Ground for Nixon Shock was prepared right here.5. Petro-Dollar - Arrangement of 1974, not treatyAfter Nixon question was - How will demand of dollar remain now? Answer was found in oil.Verified fact:In 1973 after Yom Kippur war and oil embargo, US-Saudi relation was on verge of breakingIn 1974 US Finance Minister Bill Simon and Foreign Minister Henry Kissinger talked to SaudiIn June 1974 comprehensive military-economic cooperation agreement happened between US-SaudiArrangement became this - Saudi will sell oil in dollars, will invest earnings in safe instruments like American Treasury Bonds, America will give economic-military cooperationImportant correction: Calling it as formal Petro-Dollar treaty is not correct. No official memo of this promise has been found. Calling it as informal arrangement is more correct.But impact was true:World needs oil, needs dollar for oil, therefore demand of dollar remainedMoney of oil selling countries again came in American Bonds, borrowing of America remained cheap6. SWIFT - Not America's, Belgium'sMost spread confusion is this - SWIFT was made by America.Verified fact:SWIFT - Society for Worldwide Interbank Financial TelecommunicationMade in Belgium in 1973, 15 countries' 239 banks made itIt is member-owned co-operative, headquarters is in BelgiumMore than 11,000 financial institutions in more than 200 countries are connected with itWhat does SWIFT do?It does not send money, it sends messageOne bank tells other bank - Money has to be sentMoney goes from accounts of banks, not from SWIFTWhy is America's dominance?Because of dollar, not because of being owner of SWIFTBig trade of world happens in dollar, therefore messages of dollar are more7. Saddam and Euro - Incident correct, reason not provedVerified incident:In 2000 Iraq announced to do oil from dollar to Euro under UN Oil-for-Food programIn 2003 attack happened on Iraq under leadership of America, power of Saddam wentLater oil of Iraq again started happening in dollarNot verified - Reason:Was Euro decision itself reason of war? No solid proof of this is obtainedAccording to historians many reasons are told behind war - Accusation of WMD, Kuwait, regional politics, securityEditorial rule: Correlation cannot be called as reason. Two incidents happened one after other, it does not mean that first gave birth to second therefore we are writing - There is correlation, reason not proved.8. UPI vs SWIFT - Do not compare bicycle and airplaneVerified fact:UPI -India's retail payment system, operated by NPCI, started in 2016From person to shopkeeper, in seconds, in rupees, from bank account to bank accountNow expansion is happening in many countries, but mainly in retail and small remittanceSWIFT -Messaging system of large international transfer between banksCorporate trade, institutional payment, large value transfersCan take 1 to 5 days, because there is chain of many banks in betweenConclusion:UPI cannot directly replace SWIFTBut in low value retail remittance and tourism payment, SWIFT can be bypassed by joining instant payment systems of both countriesComparing both is like comparing bicycle and airplaneClaim of opposition to UPI: No solid record of opposition as policy of UPI was found. Controversy that came in front in September 2026 was not of UPI, it was of MDR fee on merchant UPI transaction above 2,000 rupees. Therefore claim of opposition to UPI is not included in this article.9. 5 Lessons for India in Public InterestDependence on one currency is dangerous: World learned from dependence on dollar, India will also have to increase trade in rupee.Who makes system is powerful: America made Bretton Woods, made Petro-Dollar arrangement, therefore power remained.UPI is India's strength: UPI showed that India can show path to world in digital payment.Gold, oil and trust - All three necessary: Only gold is not enough, only oil is not enough, trust on system also needed.Every country sees its own interest: Whether Trump or Biden, America will see its own interest. India will also have to see its own interest - This is diplomacy.10. Editorial ConclusionDollar's story is not America's story, it is story of power. Power started with gold, survived with oil, now running with financial system.But do not understand history from one reason, one villain, one video Verified facts are real power. Rest all is story

It is you who is inciting people against the Constitution and democracy, Modi ji!

Parivahan Vishesh News

(Article: Rajendra Sharma)

"Remember one more thing, Naxals have ended, but danger has not yet averted. Armed Naxals in forests have been wiped out, but mental Naxals have captured many organizations. Even today they are inciting people against the Constitution and democracy of the country. These mental Naxals have infiltrated into many political parties, into different organizations also. We have to identify them. We have to defeat them. And we have to make country secure."These are words of Prime Minister Narendra Modi, hardly anyone will be surprised at this. But many may be surprised at this, though looking at experience of last several years this too should not be surprising that Prime Minister Modi was giving this call to identify and defeat so-called mental Naxals, during celebration of Diwali. Perhaps even more people will be surprised at this that Prime Minister Modi was giving this call, not to workers gathered in a political meeting of his party, but from ranks of Central security forces (CRPF), with whom Prime Minister Modi had specially reached to celebrate Diwali.

Through over-publicity by every means, governmental and non-governmental, it has now been told to almost everyone that Prime Minister Modi does not celebrate festival of Diwali at home or with relatives-friends like common people, but goes to some front and celebrates it with soldiers and officers deployed there, so that their pain of being away from home on festival can be reduced. It is also known to all till now that unlike all prime ministers before him, Narendra Modi reaches on every such occasion dressed up in attire of military officers, so that jawans deployed in uniform can feel that he is from among them.It is another matter that this royal show of similarity of dress also gets exposed immediately then only, when Prime Minister Modi gets down from his helicopter to make these soldiers celebrate festival as per his terms. Yes! What happened on this Diwali, was a matter much beyond even Prime Minister Modi's own shows of royal pomp and grandeur till now. This time, to welcome Modi who reached to celebrate Diwali with them, CRPF had to prepare a whole dancer platoon of its women personnel, who formed a circle around Prime Minister and welcomed Prime Minister through group dance. Many found whole scene reminiscent of royalty, then it should not be surprising.Still, the drum beating of generosity of Prime Minister Modi reaching among jawans deployed on borders to celebrate festival often suppresses what Prime Minister Modi actually says and does after reaching among guardians of borders of country in name of celebrating festival? Besides making them his devotee what does he motivate and enthuse them to do? Of course, on such occasion any prominent leader will appreciate sacrifice and sacrifice of uniformed jawans and boost their morale. And highlighting challenges present before country, will also call for concentrating efforts to face them. But, in a way erasing difference between governmental and party events, Prime Minister Modi has repeatedly made his addresses to defence forces an opportunity to eulogize importance of his own rule, to attack governments before him and his political opponents. But, this time Modi has taken his pure political messaging in his address to CRPF/CoBRA forces in Bastar on Diwali, to a dangerous level, which is unprecedented even by Narendra Modi's own scale.Of course, someone can say that this time on Diwali since Prime Minister Modi reached among defence forces deployed in Bastar in Chhattisgarh and in Bastar main work of these defence forces was to face challenge of Maoism, therefore focus of his Diwali address being on congratulating these forces for success in combating Maoism was natural. But, from a glance at part of Prime Minister's address which we quoted at beginning itself, it becomes clear that this is not at all a case of focus being on combating Maoism. On contrary showing sleight of hand Prime Minister Modi deliberately mixes Maoism with opposition only, so that he can justify resorting to his repressive methods against opposition. Narendra Modi does this besides forcibly making Maoism and Naxalism synonymous, in two-three stages.First he mixes 'armed Naxal' and so-called "mental Naxal", which is a long leap in sense that unlike armed so-called Naxals challenging state's power with arms, if any so-called mental Naxal gives ideological challenge to present power also, Constitution of India gives him full freedom to do so. Basically on this basis only Supreme Court had declared old sedition section as unconstitutional in a way and had also put ban on all types of cases under it. It is another matter that in new criminal laws of Modi's regime, by changing name and in even more freedom-snatching manner, said sedition law has been brought back and constitutional court has not been able to find time to review it.In second big leap Narendra Modi, through claiming that "mental Naxals have captured many organizations... mental Naxals have infiltrated into many political parties, in different organizations also" etc., declares all critics of his rule from his political opponents to various types of social and other organizations, as "mental Naxali".And in third leap Prime Minister Modi through claiming that "they" i.e. so-called 'mental Naxal' "even today are inciting people against Constitution and democracy of country", tries to defame growing people's movements of different sections of people against his regime and especially growing mass movement across country demanding cancellation of Election Commission's SIR process on question of credibility of electoral system itself and resignation of Chief Election Commissioner Gyanesh Kumar responsible for blatant pro-ruling party arbitrariness done in name of purification of voter lists, by labeling it as Maoist.But, Prime Minister Modi has been doing all this at least from this 15th August itself, when in his Independence Day address from Red Fort he had called for combating so-called "mental Naxals". Against background of unprecedented movement especially of students and other youth started from June-July on issue of paper leak, it was self-evident from said phrase coined by Prime Minister that this whole exercise is to make way easy to crush growing dissatisfaction of people over failures of Modi rule by naming it Naxalism. Naturally now same weapon has been extended to widespread movement going on to ensure purity of election process going on at this time, in which extremely important presence of younger generation can be seen.Obviously no one can expect from Modi-Shahi to see this irony that such mass movements are being tried to be defamed by linking in name of so-called "armed Naxals", whose one important identity is their being completely peaceful and within ambit of Constitution. But, Modi regime has as if achieved mastery in defaming peaceful movements of people and making way smooth for their suppression. Earlier, despite being completely peaceful and constitutional, anti-CAA movement was labeled as "Islamist" and attempts were made to crush it through brutal suppression by BJP state governments of Uttar Pradesh, Madhya Pradesh etc. and finally not only was it suppressed by imposing communal riot in Delhi, but many impactful young voices associated with this movement were thrust into jails for years in name of 'larger conspiracy case' of riot. Before this, same game was played in name of Bhima-Koregaon conspiracy case. After this, attempt was made to crush historic movement of farmers also by labeling it as separatist, Khalistan-supporter etc. And now for same work against especially youth-led mass movements, phrase "mental Naxal" has been brought.Despite this, Modi's Diwali call is more dangerous than all these examples till now in sense that demand to 'identify, defeat mental Naxals and thus make country secure' was being made from those security forces, who are in any case important part of repressive arm of regime. Actually its indication was given in Prime Minister's 15th August speech itself, when in context of internal challenges Prime Minister had announced thorough reorganization of Home Guards force. Now direct demand is being made from defence forces to enter field against opposition. But using repressive machinery of regime indiscriminately along with its goon forces against its opponents is a major characteristic of fascism itself, a glimpse of which was also seen in public demonstrations of October in capital of country. And such important characteristic of fascism is to incite "inciting people against Constitution and democracy" itself in this way, yet accusing its opponents of doing exactly same.

Today's Cybersecurity Thought

Expressing concern over the rapidly increasing digital arrest scams and cyber financial crimes in India, the Supreme Court has directed WhatsApp and other digital intermediary platforms to submit detailed information regarding the security measures proposed by them to prevent such crimes. The Court also clarified that all proposals should be submitted to the Indian Cyber Crime Coordination Centre (I4C) as well, so that a coordinated and effective mechanism against cyber fraud can be developed.

Parivahan Vishesh News

This direction was issued by a Bench comprising Chief Justice Surya Kant, Justice Joymalya Bagchi, and Justice V. Mohana during the hearing of a suo motu petition related to digital arrest cases. The next hearing in the matter has been scheduled for November 23.Digital Arrest: An Emerging Cyber ThreatDigital arrest is a form of cybercrime in which criminals impersonate officials of the police, CBI, ED, customs department, or other government agencies and intimidate individuals through video calls or online platforms. By showing fake arrest warrants, investigation notices, or other forged documents, victims are made to believe that they are involved in a serious crime. Thereafter, they are coerced into transferring large sums of money into various bank accounts in the name of investigation or verification.In recent years, there has been a significant increase in such incidents, resulting in numerous cases involving fraud worth lakhs of rupees. Expressing serious concern over this trend, the Supreme Court has initiated the process of fixing accountability among various institutions.Court Emphasizes the Role of Digital PlatformsThe Court stated that digital platforms, including WhatsApp, should not limit themselves to taking action only after receiving complaints. Instead, they must proactively utilize their technological capabilities to identify accounts and activities being used for cyber fraud and take preventive measures.During the hearing, it was informed that WhatsApp has taken action against approximately 9,400 accounts involved in digital arrest scams and impersonation of law enforcement agencies. The company also stated that it is developing software capable of identifying suspicious accounts and warning users in a timely manner.Accountability of Banks and Financial InstitutionsThe Supreme Court emphasized that the role of banks and financial institutions in preventing digital arrest fraud is extremely important. The Court observed that if it is established that a cyber fraud occurred due to the failure of a bank or financial institution to exercise due diligence or take timely action regarding suspicious transactions, then the victim should be compensated by the concerned institution.The Bench stressed that financial institutions should be capable of identifying transactions that deviate abnormally from a customer's regular banking behavior. If a large or suspicious payment is suddenly made from a customer's account, banks should adopt measures such as alerts, verification, or temporary holds.Expectation of a Strong Regulatory Framework from RBIThe Court also paid special attention to the regulatory reforms proposed by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI). The Supreme Court observed that voluntary guidelines alone would not be sufficient to tackle digital arrest scams and other cyber financial crimes; instead, binding and punitive provisions are necessary.The Court expressed the expectation that the upcoming regulations would include provisions relating to clear accountability of banking institutions, monitoring of suspicious transactions, timely reporting, and compensation for victims.Directions to States and Law Enforcement AgenciesThe Supreme Court has directed the law enforcement agencies of all States and Union Territories to submit detailed information regarding FIRs registered in digital arrest cases, the current status of investigations, and measures suggested for prevention and effective prosecution of such crimes. The Court further directed that this information also be shared with the Indian Cyber Crime Coordination Centre (I4C) to strengthen the national strategy against cybercrime.This initiative of the Supreme Court is a significant step towards establishing a comprehensive and institutional framework against cybercrime in India. The Court has clearly indicated that preventing crimes such as digital arrest is not the sole responsibility of the police or investigating agencies. Rather, digital platforms, banks, regulatory bodies, and law enforcement agencies must collectively discharge their shared responsibilities. This intervention by the Court could play a vital role in strengthening cyber security mechanisms, ensuring quicker assistance to victims, and enhancing control over digital financial crimes in the future.

Demand for Complete Transparency in National Interest, Internal Security, and Governance: A 'Mann Ki Baat' Addressed to the Prime Minister by a Conscious Citizen of Pilibhit

Parivahan Vishesh News

Hariom Bajpai 'Nadan'

Pilibhit-In a vast and democratic country like India, the demand for absolute transparency and accountability at every level of society is gaining strong momentum to further strengthen policymaking, internal security, and governance. Hariom Bajpai 'Nadan', a vigilant citizen, social activist, and journalist from Pilibhit, has addressed a deeply significant and ideological letter under 'Mann Ki Baat' to the Honorable Prime Minister of the country. Through this letter, several burning and critical questions have been placed before the nation, which can prove to be a milestone for the nation's progress and internal security.This ideological article strongly demands that the complete details and data of individuals involved in anti-national activities and conspiracies—such as damaging railway tracks, stone-pelting, terrorism, or criminal acts—must be made public. Those who consume the country's food and avail of government facilities, yet when the need arises, find themselves involved in anti-national activities, must have their identities revealed to the country with complete transparency. In a nation with a population of over 1.4 billion, there should be no place for any parallel system or separate set of rules. For the internal security and sovereignty of the nation, the strict implementation of the principle of 'One Nation, One Law' is extremely essential.Furthermore, in a massive country of 1.4 billion people, taxpayers today still appear to be primarily limited to the trading community, government employees, and doctors. When every citizen of the country consumes government facilities and resources, why is every capable citizen across the entire population not brought under the purview of the Income Tax Department? To ensure participation in nation-building, the government must immediately bring every eligible citizen into the tax system. Additionally, a real social audit of welfare schemes and subsidies should be conducted so that assistance reaches only the deserving and needy.The letter also terms incidents of violence and vandalism against doctors or medical personnel during treatment as completely unacceptable, demanding stringent legal provisions against them. Conversely, it emphasizes highlighting and honoring the backgrounds of citizens who make selfless contributions to social service, organ donation, and national interest at the national level."Those who eat the food of the nation, avail of all government facilities, and when the need arises, assist in anti-national activities—a transparent assessment of such acts and elements is the greatest necessity for our internal security today."The points raised by Hariom Bajpai 'Nadan' echo the voice of every Indian today who wishes to see the country safe, empowered, and at the forefront of progress. In a democracy, along with rights, citizens also have fundamental duties. When a person challenges the internal peace or security of the country despite enjoying all its comforts and facilities, dealing with them sternly becomes paramount in the national interest. Equal participation of every capable citizen in the grand endeavor of nation-building is mandatory. This demand for 'One Nation, One Law' and a transparent tax system is a highly relevant step toward strengthening the nation's unity, integrity, and economic stability, compelling readers and the administration to think deeply.

Toton police station in-charge misbehaves with JMM spokesperson, Geeta raises questions on the government

Parivahan Vishesh News

The government should ensure accountability of anti-tribal officials: Geeta Balmuchu, District President, West Singh bhum

Kartik Kumar Parichha, State Head -Jharkhand

Ranchi: Ranchi: After the Tonto police station in-charge was accused of allegedly mistreating JMM district spokesperson and Jharkhand agitator Budhram Laguri, BJP district president Geeta Balmuchu has questioned the working style of the state government and police administration. She said that when the district's MP, MLA, and minister belong to the ruling coalition and the state is also governed by the JMM, it is the ruling party officials who are facing alleged mistreatment by the police.Geeta Balmuchu said that the BJP has consistently raised the issues of deteriorating law and order, police excesses, rising crime, illegal mining, and drug abuse in the district. Referring to the lathi charge on villagers protesting against the no-entry drive, she said that the silence of JMM leaders at that time was also a topic of discussion. Now, following the alleged mistreatment of its own party leaders, the JMM is forced to question the administration's working style.He asked Minister Deepak Biruwa, the district's MPs and MLAs, and the state government, who controls the police administration in the district? When even the voices of ruling party leaders are not heard in the police station, who can the ordinary poor and tribal people expect justice from? He demanded that the government ensure accountability of the police administration.
